PLACES TO FIND INFORMATION

Want to know more about the photographs in your possession? Start with your family members and then hunt for journals; scrapbooks; old letters; family Bibles; copies of birth, marriage and death certificates; photographs; school records; military records; obituaries; deeds and wills. You may be able to find these kinds of documents in the following locations:

- Family history libraries
- The local library in the town where your family lived
- Old newspaper articles
- School yearbooks
- The Internet (see links on page 29)
- Courthouses
- Churches
- Government offices
Note: Be sure to check all jurisdictions (town, county, state and country).
- Historical societies
